

Shining in the Darkness of the Universe
Simon Constam

We need beautiful things in the world more than we need the world to be beautiful. That is our tragedy.

Simon Constam entered poetry in his teens through Arthur Rimbaud and Samuel Beckett. Constam is a poet and an aphorist. For the past two years, he has published a new, original aphorism on Instagram every day under the moniker, Daily Ferocity. He works for Solo Traveler (www.solotravelerworld.com) and lives in Toronto. He owned a bookstore for many years on the West Coast. He has published in/on a number of magazines/websites such as The Jewish Literary Journal and Poetica.
