

If
John Kaniecki

If I had a guitar
if I had a song
I would be a star
and sing all the day long I'd sing to right every wrong but I have clumsy hands and I cannot sing
so this little poem is the best I can bring

John Kaniecki is a Christian of over 30 years and is presently a full-time caregiver for his wife, Sylvia. John served eight years as a volunteer missionary to the inner city of Newark, New Jersey with the Church of Christ at Chancellor Avenue. John is a published writer and poet who has a very diversified collection of literary art, including his personal story, "More than the Madness." John hopes to become a professional writer to support himself and his family as well as to bless others. To learn more about him, visit johnkaniecki.weebly.com
